Early Settlers in District Included VanLuven Family

29-1-48

By Joseph Foster

VERY EARLY in the last century, when Canada was new and the pioneers began to arrive, a family of VanLuvens came to a farm in the Township of Kingston, a short distance south of Murvale, on what was known as the Portland Road. Here a family of stalwart sons grew to manhood. Many members of the family still reside throughout the district.

Two of these sons settled at Yarker and three came to Moscow, Zara, Peter and Thomas.

Zara VanLuven has been educated at the Kingston Grammar School as a teacher and later accepted a position in one of the Moscow public schools, located one mile due south of Moscow and known as the Potter School.

Willet Casey Potter, Gideon Garrison and John Baker, were the three principal supporters of this school.

ZARA VANLUVEN, the new teacher, lived at the Potter Homestead, where seven marriageable daughters resided. He served the school satisfactorily for a period of two years.

It should be mentioned here that Zara VanLuven was never too enthusiastic regarding the teaching profession and after his marriage to Martha Potter, he and his young wife launched out in the mercantile business at Moscow. They bought out the only general store from one John Crommer, and the VanLuven undertaking at Moscow, continued without interruption for a period of seventy years.

Here the four sons of Zara and Martha VanLuven were born and educated. Augustus, the eldest son spent his early life in his father's store and on his father's farm and later was appointed by the Ontario Government, keeper of the County Jail at Napanee. Everton and Egerton later became partners in their father's store and extended the business until they were known far beyond the bounds of the centre of their activities. They were good citizens, careful businessmen and gentlemen in every sense of the word.

EARL, the youngest, because of impaired health, removed to the State of California, where he became interested in the culture of citrus fruits, and for many years, prior to his death, was secretary and general sales manager for one of the large exporting organizations.

The VanLuven business at Moscow in 1860, had grown to such an extent as to require two clerks, and Thomas VanLuven, one of the younger brothers of the original family, and the late H. A. Baker of Moscow, began work in the store. Thomas VanLuven, who was known to his many friends as "Tommy", very soon made friends of every one. He was an affable fellow, possessing an engaging personality.

He was of a mechanical turn of mind and very early became interested in research work. During his spare time he worked out on paper many improvements to existing devices in use on the farms of the settlement.

THIS LED to further investigation in the realm of engineering. His first contribution was the invention of a machine to produce a 90 degree stove pipe elbow from a flat piece of sheet metal, by crimping and folding the metal so as to form a curved elbow, completely eliminating the objectionable joints, found in the conventional type. The VanLuven patent has never been surpassed.

His next and perhaps greatest contribution in the field of mechanical engineering, was the invention of the patent roller and ball bearing axle. To demonstrate the efficiency of this invention, VanLuven equipped a buggy with this new type of running gear and the writer can recall the widespread interest this vehicle created. It stood up well and was used for years in the Moscow business.

Few inventors live long enough to reap any financial reward from their labors and Thomas VanLuven was no exception to this rule.

PETER VANLUVEN, during his residence at Moscow, was a farmer. He married Emily Huffman, daughter of Elijah Huffman, the first settler in the Moscow district. They had two children, Franklin and Nellie. Franklin married Elizabeth Wright. Frank as he was called, was the first station agent at Moscow on the old Napanee and Tamworth Railway. Later he moved to Napanee and engaged in the grain business.

Nellie married Hiram Johnston and following his death, married Michael C. Dunn, Mike, as he was affectionately known to his many friends, entered the railway business, serving for a time as station agent at Moscow and continued with the Napanee and Tamworth and the Bay of Quinte Railways and later with the Canadian National, until his retirement a few years ago. Mr. Dunn resides in the city of Brockville. He was well-known in Kingston where he was Canadian Northern Railway Company agent here with an office on Princess Street, near the Capital Theatre. He was a member of Sydenham Street United Church while he lived here. His wife died some time ago.

Dear Madam:

Your letter, with check, came four days ago, and I have been very busy since, as I am dedicated to genealogy. Every query presents a problem to me, one which I cannot forget until I have it solved. One of my best friends, Dr. Otto Van Luven, was with me in the last war. He has since died, and I miss him. An earlier branch of the Van Luvens married into my Howe family. It was of the Uxbridge family, not Oxbridge, as you have it. However, that is not of too much interest at the moment.

First, let me say that there is no evidence that Benjamin Van Luven ever came to Canada, and I doubt it very much. My reasons are (1) that he never applied for land in this Province, as did John and Cornelius, who may have been brothers, and possibly the sons of Benjamin. (2) Nor is there any evidence that Benjamin was alive in the U. S. New York State in 1790. I suspect that he had died prior to that year.

John and Cornelius Van Luven were granted 200 acres each by the Upper Canada Land Board on the same date, 13 November, 1797. By this it can be assumed that they had been in the country (Upper Canada) for a year at that time. Neither of them, nor any one of the name, were classed as Loyalists, or Tories, as termed by the Americans. Their reason for coming is likely the fact that, in 1791, the new Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada, had issued a Proclamation, offering two hundred acres of land to any sober, honest and hard-working man who would settle on the land, clear the forest, build a house, and continue to reside on his land. This proclamation was distributed throughout the eastern states. The only cost to be borne by the settler was the payment of a small fee, about five pounds money, to cover surveying and clerical fee. As a result, thousands of Americans crossed the line to Canada, and made application for land. This seems the most probable reason to be found for their coming in 1796-7.

I know nothing about the return of John and his family. Certainly, Cornelius stayed. Some of his descendants are alive to-day. I do not know anything about Christopher Van Luven, unless he was one of the several children of Cornelius. Perhaps you had better tell me what you know about him, so that I can possibly identify him. It is very certain that he did not receive any part of 1,2000 acres of land in Hurvale. This name applies to a small area at the south end of Portland Township, and I doubt if there is that much land in the whole area. However, there are records of Van Luvens in that area. I will look into as we go along. For Pete's sake, quote the clippings which he was granted this huge area of land. I know little about Mormon settlements in this part of Canada. There is record that someone came here in early days, soliciting recruits in and around Loughborough Township. Catherine Snyder was a daughter of Isaac, a Loyalist from the Saratoga battle in New York State. Isaac was born in 1766, and his wife was also from Cathering. They settled in Ernesttown Township, in which I now live.

HS AND FUNERALS

D years. During World War II, he served overseas in the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery.

Mr. Burns is survived by his wife, the former Laurie Laurin, a daughter, Mrs. Harry Good (Lorraine), and a son, Gordon.

He is also survived by brothers Herbert, Cecil, Douglas and Kenneth; and sisters, Evelyn and Veronica, of Ottawa.

The funeral service was held Nov. 19 from James Reid Funeral Home to St. Mary's Cathedral officiated by Rev. William Murphy. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Pallbearers were V. Davis, H. Fortier, G. Good, C. Comp, H. Gerow, and A. Orr.

KARL VAN LUVEN

BATTERSEA — Burial was in Olivet Cemetery, Seeleys Bay, for Karl Van Luven, 80, of Pitch Pine Island, Battersea and Atlantic Court, Stuart, Fla., who died suddenly at Stuart, Fla., Nov. 20.

Mr. Van Luven was born at Brusseau, Que., a son of the late Leonard and Jane Van Luven. He came to this area at an early age. His grandfather, Henry Van Luven, was the first reeve of Van Luven's Mills, now known as Battersea. His grandmother was Sarah King, daughter of Capt. John King who was Master of the frigates "Falcon" and "Kite" during his service in the Royal Navy.

Admiral Nelson was embarked in "Kite" and among Mr. Van Luven's most treasured possessions were the sextant and writing cabinet used by Capt. King at the Battle of the Nile. Capt. King was wounded in action at sea and after being pensioned from the navy, came to Nova Scotia and then to Cataraqui, where his daughter met and married Henry Van Luven.

Mr. Van Luven, for some years assisted his father, Leonard who owned and operated the Van Luven House in Battersea. He then built and operated Loughborough Inn, where the excellence of the fishing and the hospitable atmosphere made it a summer resort, second to none.

In 1930, he retired from business and moved to Kingston, where he became an active member of the curling club. During the war years, he spent a great deal of time helping in the Victory Loan Campaigns and in the Kingston Shipyards.

Since 1954, he and his wife have spent the winters in Florida, returning each spring to their summer residence on Pitch Pine Island. During his many years in this area, he was associated with the Orange Lodge in Battersea and attended Battersea United Church and Queen Street United Church in Kingston.

Surviving are his wife Florence; a daughter, Phyllis; a son-in-law, LCDR H. J. Bird; grandchildren, Barbara and Peter; a brother, Frederick; and a sister, Mrs. Vida McKendry. He was predeceased by another brother, Dr. Otto Van Luven.

Funeral was from the R. J. Reid Funeral Home to Battersea United Church where Rev. Mr. H. M. Servage officiated at a service.

Pall-bearers were Archie Kirkpatrick, Bruce Miller, Lloyd Knapp, Joseph Campbell, B. K. Ruttan and Arthur Robb.

ANNIE MOROCCO MORTON

GANANOQUE — Funeral service was held recently for Annie Morocco Morton, 56, of 29 King street, who died at her residence following an illness lasting three years.

She was born at Musselburgh, Scotland, a daughter of the late Jack Morocco and his wife, the former Mary Langlands. She came to Canada in 1952 and lived in Gananoque until her death.

During her lifetime she worked as a clerk. She was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Rebekah Lodge, No. 15 and Royal Canadian Legion Ladies Auxiliary.

Surviving are her husband, John Alexander Morton; four daughters, Mrs. Mary Perry, Mrs. Alice Bevins, Mrs. Agnes Younge and Eleanor, all of Gananoque; a son, James of Gananoque; a sister, Mrs. Lester Kinross; five brothers, William, Jack, Albert, David, and Richard, all of Scotland, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral was from the Tomkins Funeral Home, with F. M. C. Young officiating at service, Burial was in Gananoque Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Alamo, Godfrey Nalon, Wilkins, Perkins, Ross Atkins, Rombough and Douglas S.

Dear Dr. Burley,

Your letter of 19 Sept came and was forwarded to me while we were out of town and I might add without my books. So this is the first chance I have had to answer. For a quick response that you gave me there was a lot of information. So now for more questions, and comments;
In my letter of 11 Sep I spoke of Benjamin and Elizabeth and then without giving names I spoke of John and Mary. They are the ones that seemed to move between Canada and the U. S.

Do you have the wife's name and/or childrens names for Cornleius landowner in 1797? I dont have any. I believe he is the son of Benjamin & Elizabeth

John, landowner in 1797 I think is also a son of Benjamin & Elizabeth.

Your reason for the family going to Canada coincides with the birthdates of the children more than the story about the Revolutionary War.

This is what I have on Christopher,

Christopher Van Leuwen was witness to baptism of Mary van Leuwen daughter of Pieter & Margriet Woed or Woet 6 Jan 1703, other witness Cornelia Van Leuwen. I rather think Cornelia was the aunt of the baby but possibly could have been Christophers wife. (found this in New York church records for Marbletown N Y.)

Christopher Van Leuwen went to Canada via Lake Champlain- family remarks have found no verification

Reprint in San Bernardino Calif Daily Sun Sunday June 3 1934

"The history indicates as Van Leuvenes the family came to America from Louvaine, Belgium and settled in New Amsterdam, now New York. The family split over issues of the Revolutionary war. Christopher Van Luven and his immediate family went to Canada and made their way to the Canadian border via Lake Champlain and settled temporarily in eastern Canada. Eventually they went west to the section of the country and received a grant of 1,200 acres from the Crown at Murvale." This was undoubtedly given by a family member at the time of the family reunion.

Napanee newspaper clipping found in family papers without a date. I assume it is Napanee Canada. " United Empire Loyalists Christopher Van Luven were given 1200 acres of land at Murvale (north of and near Kingston Ontario Canada over 100 years ago".

Newspaper clipping no name of paper or date.

"Very early in the last century when Canada was new and the pioneers began to arrive a family of Van Luvens came to a farm in the Township of Kingston, a short distance south of Murvale, on what was known as the Portland Road. Here a family of stalwart sons grew to manhood."

Found this invitation; The V n Luven and Chrysler Annual Picnic will be held on Saturday June 26th 1948 at Elgin Park, Uxbridge and this makes me wonder if there is a marriage into the Chrysler family. As I wrote this didnt find a notation that I had sent it to you but believe I did.

Dont spend any time looking for this just thought you might know as I am curious.

An excerpt from a letter written in 1915 to Earl Van Luven from Leonard. Speaking of Otto Van Luven the Doctor..." His grandfather Henry Van Luven fought in the Battle of Lundys Lane while his fathers grandfather on his mothers side was master of N M Ship Falcon and fought under Lord Nelson at Trafalgar. That the original name of the family was Louvain and they came from that city."

Bath, Ontario, Canada.

Dear Dr. Burleigh,

Genealogy has gone by the wayside for a while, but, now I am back working on it.

I am enclosing a check for $25.00 and some family sheets to help with my inquiries.

These are some questions I would like to find the answers for;

When did Benjamin and Elizabeth (Knickerbocker) Van Leuven arrive in Canada. Family stories say the New York family split over issues of the Revolutionary War. Seems like most of the dates I have found are in the 1793, 1794 or 1795 time. Also would like to know why they went to Canada if not over these issues. Some family stories give all sorts of reasons. This family certainly moved back and forth from New York and Canada.

Looks like they were in New York from 1791 till 1793 then 1795 till 1802 in Canada, 1805 to 1808 in New York and 1810 in Canada. When did they arrive back in New York? Also why did they go back and forth so much.

These are my great, great grandparents so would like to know more about them.

Benjamin and Catherine are my great grandparents so would like all you can give me on them. Need their marriage date. They also traveled back and forth.

Why? 1795-1802 Canada 1805-1808 N Y 1810 in Canada, when back in the U S

Did David? Pulver Van Leuven marry in Canada and if so, who, dates and places

Did Anna Van Leuven " " " " " " " "

Did Elizabeth Van Leuven " " " " " " " "

If the birthdates I have are incorrect please correct.

Give dates and details and parents of Christopher Van Leuven that went to Canada also need to know from where.

Proof if possible of the grant to Christopher Van Leuven of 1,2000 acres from the Crown known as Murvale on Portland Road, given 100 years ago according to newspaper clippings I have found

Did the Van Leuven's that left the U S live at Murvale at all and if not why.

What relation if any is the Christopher to these names I have given you on the family sheets. In the U S history he seems to be a mystery.

Have 1851 Lennox & Addington and parts of Frontenac ~~187~~ and 1871 Loughborough Census and 1915 Kingston Directory records.

I wonder if members of the family had joined the Mormon Church in Canada and might have been sent around as missionaries is the reason for so much moving. Haven't found any record in the libraries that I can get to easily that might give a clue to this.

All the information I have on Catherine Snyder is her name, etc. Want to know more about her.

Thank you for any help you might be able to give me, and these questions will keep you busy for a little while. So glad to know of some one I can call on for help as I don't believe I will be able to get up to Canada at least until next summer. I would like to write a book about this family for the many descendants that are in California, and they are certainly urging me to do so. I have written one on Zylpha Van Leuven and her husband Nathan Dillon and it has been wonderfully received.

Sincerely,

Mrs B M Egenes

Just found another question. This invitation was found among some papers of the family in San Bernardino.

Sent to Earl Van Luven from Toronto June 9 1948

"The Van Luven and Chrysler Annual picnic will be held on Saturday June 26th 1948 at Elgin Park Oxbridge. Bring your family and enjoy a good time.

Signed Walter Ridley President Whitby and Wm Carter Sec Treas Toronto "

Is there a connection of the Van Luvens and Chrysler family in your records?

was no motive power to move rafts, the following means was used to raft logs to Battleside: A hand powered winch was set up on the raft. A row boat carried a large stone (100 lbs or more) to which was tied a rope from the drum of the winch. The boat then carried the stone & rope for a half mile where it was dropped into water. Then, returning to the raft, the workers turned the drum, gradually moving raft to the stone. The process was then repeated until the raft entered the outlet of the lake & the adjacent mill. Workers lived in shack on raft until it reached its destination. While the stone may have slipped a bit, the raft did move (more) like the frog climbing out of the well. Irregular bottom of lake with wood lands tended to prevent stone from moving

MEMORANDUM:

In the years just following the War of 1812, Dr. Vanderwe's father went to Battleside to set up trading post with the Indians. The route from the Montreal road near Kingston Mills was a path. Twice a week he walked to Kingston carrying the furs he had bought from the Indians. There he sold & in turn purchased trinkets which he sold to the Indians on his return to Battleside the following day. In time ~~the~~ settlers came in & Vanderwe started a store. Later he became interested in the water power & set up a mill where he made lumber shingles, etc. He obtained for Gov't lumbering rights for thousands of acres in Longhorn Lake area. During winter he & his men skated on shores of lake. Before spring the logs were drawn out on ice and rafts made of mixed soft & hard wood. As there

Dear Dr. Burleigh,

Your name was given to me by Mrs. Bell of the Lexington and Addington Historical Society, suggesting you might be able to help me in my research.

I am seeking any information I can find about Benjamin and Catherine Snyder Van Leuven in particular and the Van Leuven family in General, because I believe the different lines have a common ancestor.

I understand you have accumulated material on many families and I will share information I have.

What would your price be to send me copies of anything you might have on the Van Leuven family.

Thank you for any help you might be able to give me.

pital for Sick Children, Toronto, the first person to be so appointed.

In 1921, he was made Director of the Department of Pathology and Bacteriology at The Hospital for Sick Children. He served in that capacity for the next 25 years. On June 30, 1947, Dr. Erb resigned as Director of Pathology and became a member of the active consulting staff.

Dr. I. H. Erb

During Dr. Erb's years of active service, the concept of a full-time member of a hospital staff was not so generally accepted as it is at the present time. Even pathologists were expected to have outside interests. Dr. Erb rapidly built up an extensive consulting practice in allergy and also became one of Canada's leading medicolegal experts. This was all in addition to being a pioneer pediatric pathologist. He was the author and co-author of a number of scientific papers.

He was a member of the following medical societies: the Toronto Academy of Medicine, The Canadian Medical Association, the Ontario Medical Association, the Ontario Laennec Society, the Canadian Paediatric Society, the Canadian Public Health Association, the American Public Health Association, the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists, the Medical Legal Society of Toronto, the American College of Allergists and the Canadian Academy of Allergy.

Dr. Erb came of sturdy Mennonite stock. Throughout his life, he maintained an active interest in church affairs. He was particularly interested in missionary activities. The success of this interest is evidenced by the fact that his eldest son, Dr. John T. Erb, has been for a number of years a medical missionary in Africa; he is now on leave in Canada and intends to return to Africa. His other son, Dr. R. Gordon Erb, who is now practising in Hespeler, served two years in the Grenfell Mission in Newfoundland.

Dr. Erb died on November 6, 1965, in Preston, Ontario, in his eightieth year. Unfortunately, during the last few years of his life he was severely incapacitated as a result of a cerebral hemorrhage.

pathetic understanding.

He was a member of the Welland Club, the Welland Optimist Club and the Ontario Medical Association.

As well as his widow, the former Eve Marie Godin, he is survived by three daughters and one son.

DR. THOMAS MILLER, M.B.E., 85, well-known Victoria physician for more than 50 years, died in Veterans Hospital on November 13, 1965.

Born at Leith, Scotland, he came to Canada in 1888 and studied medicine at the University of Manitoba, graduating with the class of 1911. It was just a few months ago that, because of ill health, he was forced to retire from the practice he established in Victoria in 1914. He had at one time been house surgeon at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. A former president of the Victoria Medical Society, he was a member of the Vancouver and Quadra Masonic Lodge.

His services in both World Wars received official recognition when he was made a Member of the Order of the British Empire.

A widower, Dr. Miller is survived by his son, R. C. Miller, and a daughter, Mrs. F. S. Hatcher, both of Vancouver.

DR. HUGH A. STUART, 61, retired Calgary surgeon, died at San Jose, California, on November 19, 1965.

Born in Sydney, Nova Scotia, he attended Sydney Academy before studying medicine at McGill University. Postgraduate studies followed at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal; the Postgraduate Hospital, University of Pennsylvania, and the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota.

Dr. Stuart was a member of the Associate Clinic in Calgary from 1939 to 1955, when he retired to live in California.

He was a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada; a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons; a member of the Western Society of Clinical Surgeons and a member of The Canadian Medical Association.

Dr. Stuart leaves his widow, Louise, and two daughters.

DR. OTTO VAN LUVEN, 76, died in Kingston, Ontario, on November 1, 1965.

A native of Brousseau, Que., he received his preliminary education at Battersea and Sydenham. He graduated from the Faculty of Medicine of Queen's University in 1915 and immediately went overseas with the C.A.M.C. In 1916 he was called back to Canada to establish training courses for C.A.M.C. personnel. Following World War I he practised medicine in Hamilton and Consecon. At the outbreak of World War II he re-enlisted and was commanding officer of military hospitals in Newfoundland and at Petawawa, Terrace and Nanaimo. In 1946 he joined the Department of Veterans Affairs, where he served until his retirement in 1957. He had lived in Collins Bay until he took up residence in Kingston a year ago.

Dr. Van Luven was a member of the Consecon Lodge A.F. and A.M., the Rotary Club, the Cataract Golf and Country Club, and St. John's Anglican Church, Portsmouth.

He is survived by his widow, the former Harriet Selby; and two brothers, Karl of Battersea and Fred of Vancouver.

Mrs. T. Van Luven Is Honored By Friends; Health Fairly Good

By Fred B. Pense
Staff Writer

MRS. THOMAS VAN LUVEN, affectionately known as "Aunt Lenora," of Collins Bay, was at home to her friends yesterday. The occasion was the observance of her 101st birthday. Mrs. Van Luven is enjoying fairly good health, although her hearing and sight are impaired.

Mrs. Van Luven is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Darius Smith of Ernestown. Her father was superintendent of lighthouses for Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River. Her mother, the former Margaret Allen, was born in Ernestown, Oct. 18, 1821. She was the oldest daughter of Thomas Allen, he being a local preacher. Mrs. Smith, who died at the age of 102 years, on July 2, 1924, was well known as a school teacher.

Mrs. Van Luven recalls the occasion of the opening of the new section of the Collins Bay road, when her mother had the honor of cutting the ribbon the same year she celebrated her 100th birthday. This section of new highway was constructed to eliminate two dangerous crossings at the east end of the village.

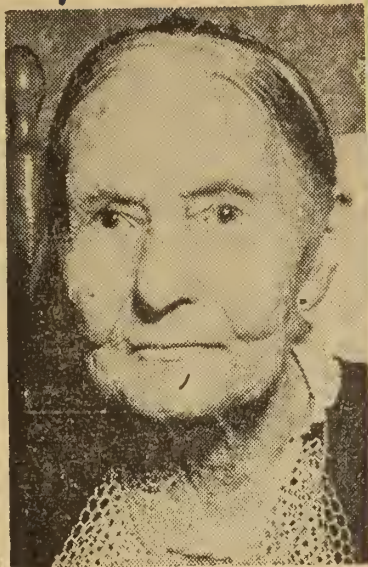

Mrs. Van Luven comes from "a long lived family." Her older sister, Mrs. John Ferguson, died last July at the age of 101 years. She had been living with her granddaughter in Montreal. Her younger sister, Mrs. W. E. Grass, died last April in Napanee at the age of 89 years.

Mrs. Van Luven has been lovingly cared for by her daughter, Miss Annie Van Luven, a registered nurse. The family lived in Kingston for some years, moving to Collins Bay about 40 years ago. Mrs. Van Luven's husband died in 1922. She has been a lifelong member of the Methodist and United Churches, and in her early life was interested in music; in fact she was a music teacher at one time.

When the writer bade Mrs. Van Luven goodbye, after extending congratulations, she was looking forward to greeting her friends when a birthday cake, the gift of a neighbor, would be cut.

From THE LIFE OF ROY A. WEAGANT by George H. Clark

Roy Weagant, dying in 1942, had lived his life as a radio engineer between the first and third eras of Hertzian wave communication.

Roy Alexander Weagant was born on March 29, 1881, in Morristburg, Ontario, Canada, the son of William Henry and Anna Gouin (McMartin) Weagant. His great-grandfather was John Gunter Weygandt, a native of Bremen, but of Dutch ancestry, who graduated from the University of Goettingen with the degree of M. A. His parents died while he was attending college, and soon after graduation he emigrated to the United States, arriving in Baltimore in 1784. There he married the daughter of a Lutheran parson and it was through this that he got a call to the ministry, embracing at first the Lutheran belief.

Later he emigrated to Canada with a group known as the United Empire Loyalists. He was given a parish in Bath, Ontario. Later, he and his entire congregation transferred their affiliations to the Anglican faith, and he founded the first Anglican church in Williamsburg, Ontario. He was ordained therein by Bishop Montain of Quebec, and it was at this time that the name was either Anglicized or Mis-spelled, becoming "Weagant".

During college days John Weygandt was a classmate of the son of George III of England, who later became King William IV.

The father, William Weagant, was one of the "ancestors of engineering instinct!" for he was the inventor of various mechanical devices, among these the Venetian blind, and carried some of these inventions into manufactured practice in his Morristburg factory. He died when Roy was very young, too young indeed to have obtained from him by direct stimulus any urge toward a future engineering career.

When Roy was four years old, his mother moved to Derby Line, Vt., and married J. T. Flint, who was a druggist of that town and for a long time its postmaster. Roy thus became an American citizen. He received the usual education of a village school, but had to spend all of his spare time outside of school hours, and during the vacation periods, behind the counter of the Flint Drug Company, despite this, however, he still found time to develop the budding urge toward engineering work.

From the library of his doctor friend Roy also obtained text-books and other works on electricity, and so when he passed to the preparatory school and college in Stanstead, Quebec, he paid especial attention to the study of physics and electricity. He attended the Arts course for two years, but when the time came for him to enter college to gain a technical education, he could not obtain the necessary funds. He therefore returned to Derby Line, and got a job with the local telephone company, determine to earn for himself the needed funds for tuition.

By hard scraping and saving he was able to enter the School of Engineering at McGill University, Montreal, in 1898, and attended here for one year. Further funds being unavailable at the time, he dropped out, and worked for three more years.

By 1902 he had saved enough money to enable him to resume his studies at McGill, and in 1905 he graduated, with the degree of B.S. He studied hard and obtained good marks, although he was not in the "brilliant fringe." ~~He studied hard~~ That his heart was in his chosen field of engineering was shown by his election of a special course in physics, under (later) Sir Ernest Rutherford.

From The Life of Royce

During college days, student Weagant occasionally attended college festivities, and during one of these events he met a Montreal young lady named Isobel Louise Reichling. They were married on December 8, 1906.

Miss Reichling was the daughter of the eminent violinist, Charles Reichling, who was appointed by Sir Oliver King, Court Musician to Queen Victoria, to direct the orchestra at Government House, Ottawa, Canada, during the regimes of Lord Lansdowne and Lord Stanley, the Earl of Derby.

One child, Carl Ludwig, resulted from the marriage. He was a brilliant lad, even from very early childhood, and had a special passion for the sea. He graduated from Cornell in 1929, having taken the course in Engineering. He was manager of the football team during his senior year, handling this as well as his studies with extraordinary success, his executive ability in the field of sports matching his high scholastic attainments.

Soon after graduation the urge for the sea caused him to gain world-wide fame by crossing the Atlantic in a tiny boat, from Ithaca, New York -- the home of his Alma Mater-- to Ithaca, Greece, erecting in the more ancient city a stone brought over by him in his tiny boat from its younger namesake, as a symbol of bondship between the two countries. This was in 1930. (The daring cruise by Carl Weagant was made between June 20, 1929 and May 30, 1930. The story of the vicissitudes of his voyage to Greece, his wanderings abroad, his return trip--which his mother shared-- and his triumphant arrival in New York Harbor is one of thrilling interest, but has little bearing upon the present work.) For this brilliant achievement he won the Blue Water medal of the Cruising Club of America for the "13,000 mile voyage planned and executed in a seamanlike and praiseworthy manner." This is the exact wording of the inscription on the medal.

Carl was Assistant Manager of "Yachting" from 1930 to 1934. A most promising career in yachting circles was, however, unfortunately cut short, before he could attain the full measure of his success. He died on July 17, 1934, and had been born in Pittsburgh, Pa., on October 23, 1907. With the death of his father eight years later, the Weagant line became extinct.

Dear Doctor Burleigh:

Re: Mr. Maurice Hogeboom

Prim. Sq. Cell Ca. Lt. Lr. Lip

This patient was seen in our clinic and a copy of the progress note is transcribed below.

Yours truly,

9.9.74

There is no evidence of active disease. He is to return in six months.

To return: 9:10 Monday, March 10, 1975

E.E. Sterns, F.R.C.S. ds

Report sent to Dr. H. Burleigh, Dr. A.K. Wyllie, Dr. E.E. Sterns, and Dr. R.J. Staebler.

I would like to know all there is to know about the Van Leuven family but I know that is a tremendous task. So I will ask that you send all the information possible on these people first and if there is any money and time left over we can work on the others.

Benjamin and Catherine (Snyder) Van Leuven and their children.

Isaac and Catherine Snyder. I have nothing on this family and was so please to at least have some names.

John Van Leuven whom I believe is the son of Benjamin and Elizabeth (Knickerbocker)

If you can find birth certificates, wedding licenses, and land records and can have copies made of them that would be appreciated.

Referring to John again-anything that you can find that might give a clear indication of his birth date will help settle some family discussions.

Guess this ends the questions at least for the time being.

Sincerely,

Mrs Egenes (Elaine)
